OCTOBER CHAIR MESSAGE

Are You Ready for Your Next Job?

September's section meeting was well attended, and each attendee shared something in common. Regardless of background, experience, or industry, all of the attendees had at least 1 ASQ Certification! ASQ certifications require that the certificate holder remain active in order to maintain a current skill set through various activities. So, that explains the motivation for certificate holders to attend section meetings. What about quality professionals that aren't currently certified? A quick Monster.com search shows that you may be missing an opportunity:

Grifols in Lakewood requires the following for their Center Quality Manager (Plasma/Blood Bank/Food/QC) Lakewood-Biomat position: Bachelor of Science degree or equivalent. Certified and proficient in quality and compliance. Works toward certification from American Society for Quality to be a Certified Quality Auditor. Works toward certification as a Designated Trainer for quality area. Typically requires 2 years of related experience in a medical and/or cGMP regulated environment. Experience with plasma or whole blood.

Why might you be interested in positions at companies like Grifols and Tetrattech? Here is some information each company has posted:

Grifols: Grifols has been a leader in the healthcare industry since 1940 by creating innovative products and services based on the values of ethics, quality and responsibility. Grifols' activities focus on fulfilling the needs of its patients as well as healthcare professionals working in therapeutics, pharmacy, diagnostics and blood banking. For more than 60 years, Grifols has developed, manufactured and marketed products designed to improve human health. At its Los Angeles facility, Grifols manufactures plasma derived biopharmaceutical products of proven efficacy, quality and safety.

Tetrattech:

Tetra Tech is a leading provider of consulting, engineering, and technical services worldwide. We are a diverse company, including individuals with expertise in science, research, engineering, construction, and information technology. Our strength is in collectively providing integrated services—delivering the best solutions to meet our clients' needs. With more than 14,000 employees worldwide, 350 offices worldwide and 2.75 Billion revenue in FY 2012, Tetra Tech's capabilities span the entire project cycle. We offer competitive compensation and benefits and are searching for innovative people to join our teams. Clearly, both companies are well established and have open positions for credentialed and effective quality professionals.

Certification Exams are somewhat notorious for their difficulty. They thoroughly test an applicant's knowledge, comprehension, and experience in the particular body of knowledge (BOK) being certified. Don't let this particular hurdle stand in your way—there are resources that are very experienced in helping people become certified. If you are interested in becoming certified, or want to gain an additional certification, contact the section Certification Chair through asqboulder.org. Section 1313 is here to help you with your marketability as a quality professional and section member.

Best regards, Joe Wojniak, ASQ CQE

Updates to ASQ Recertification Journal
ASQ Recertification Costs Increase in 2013

There are recent changes to the recertification journal categories, including more opportunities for RU credits, and categories have been better defined to make recertifying easier. The 18 RU credit amount remains the same. The new journal can be downloaded and printed directly from the main ASQ National website at: www.asq.org using "Certification Link" or call ASQ Customer Care at: 1-800-248-1946 and request item B0525

The cost of recertification recently increased due to higher costs to administer the program. This is the first cost increase in six years. Recertification by journal for members is now $69 for one certification or $89 for two or more certifications (e.g., if you get recertified for three areas, you pay $89).

Anyone starting a re-certification journal to go through the ASQ Boulder Section is strongly urged and requested to send an e-mail to the re-cert chair Gerry Naugle, at your start, at: gnaugle@earthlink.net. There are new & more streamlined policies & procedures implemented which can save you time and postage.

Article on ASQ Recertification by Rebecca Jessep, ASQ Boulder Section

ASQ certification is a formal recognition by ASQ that an individual has demonstrated a proficiency within, and comprehension of, a specific body of knowledge. Nearly 150,000 certifications have been issued to dedicated professionals worldwide. An authentic professional certification is formal recognition by a respected, recognized, and established professional organization that an individual has demonstrated a proficiency within, and comprehension of, a specified body of knowledge. An ASQ certification, like most authentic professional certifications, requires that individuals demonstrate these competencies by passing an exam and having a track record of expertise in one of the specified quality disciplines, such as Six Sigma. ASQ does not require you to take the ASQ training—or any other particular courses—as a condition of awarding such certifications.

There has been a great deal of confusion as to the true meaning of certification, especially recently, as individuals and companies strive to achieve and validate competencies in a competitive job market. Numerous training companies, educational institutions, and even individual training consultants are competing to sell training courses that purportedly include “certification.” In many cases, these are not certifications based on a noncommercial standard body of knowledge as developed by objective third-party entities, but rather paper certificates awarded for participating in specific training. While there is nothing wrong with providing evidence of a course completion (whether through a document and/or accredited continuing education units), this should not be confused with the rigor and achievement of a professional certification. ASQ offers 17 certifications. These range from Calibration Technician to Certified Quality or Reliability Engineering to Manager of Quality / Organizational Excellence. Full details on certifications can be found at:

<http://prdweb.asq.org/certification/control/right-for-you>

ASQ requires that you recertify the following certifications every three years to ensure that you maintain the same level of knowledge demonstrated in your first exam.

- Biomedical Auditor
- Calibration Technician
- HACCP Auditor
- Manager of Quality/Organizational Excellence
- Master Black Belt
- Pharmaceutical GMP Professional
- Quality Auditor
- Quality Engineer
- Reliability Engineer
- Software Quality Engineer
- Six Sigma Black Belt
- ASQ/DON Lean Six Sigma Black Belt

NOTE: Quality Inspector, Quality Improvement Associate, Quality Process Analyst, Quality Technician and Six Sigma Green Belt are lifetime certifications. They have no recertification requirements.

There are two ways to recertify. First, you may retake the examination. Second, obtain 18 recertification units (RUs) within your three-year certification period and completion of your recertification journal. The recertification journal may be found on <http://prdweb.asq.org/certification/control/recertification/rucredits/index>

You can accumulate credits from professional activities that increase your understanding of the Body of Knowledge or enhance your job such as employment, completed training, participation in your local ASQ chapter, etc. ASQ Section 1313's recertification chair is Gerry Naugle. Suggest to call him at: 303-591-2830 or write him at: gnaugle@earthlink.net before you send anything to him, he has some options which may assist your efforts.

Non-ASQ Boulder Section (or) Non-ASQ Denver Section Training Resources

From: Ron Sedlock, the quality Catalyst

If you have any quality training needs in 2013, keep me in mind. I offer a variety of quality classes such as:

- Quality Management and Leadership
- Statistics: Principles and Applications
- Process-Based Auditing
- The Tools of Quality

Many of the classes are helpful for those seeking ASQ certification and/or implementing six sigma improvement. If you have a specific quality need, I can customize a training class to meet that need.

If you are seeking ASQ certifications I do exam preparation classes for most certifications. I offer public seminars only if the demand is there. All my training can be offered "in-house". In-house training is more cost effective if you have 6 or more trainees.

IMMEDIATE ATTENTION -- The March ASQ exam format is offered again in October. The June exam format is offered again in December. In these tough budget and economic times, I am willing to give individuals advice on quality and exam preparation. This is a free service. Have a great 2013.
